CANARY ISLANDS 4.4.2019 - 17.4.2019 ISLAND CONNECTIONS 843

BOOK LAUNCH

Britain and the Canary Islands

Britain shares a rich common history with the Canary Islands, and in particular Lanzarote, as illustrated in a book by author Larry Yaskiel.
Called The British Connection To Lanzarote And The Canaries, the book was recently launched in the UK at the prestigious Cervantes Institute in London.

↑ Larry Yaskiel presents his publication The British Connection To Lanzarote And The Canaries at London's Cervantes Institute

Yaskiel, born in London in 1936, has been resident in Lanzarote since 1979. A renowned producer and music manager for many years, he is currently a journalist and editor for the Lancelot Island Journal and has produced one of the most in-depth looks at the ties between the two regions to date. The book delves into key moments and players from the fourteenth century right through to the twenty-first, including the conquest of the Islands, maritime hostilities between Spain and Britain, commercial relations with wine, fruit, shipping, industry and tourism, and links with influential people such as Winston Churchill, Francis Drake, William Shakespeare, Horatio Nelson, Agatha Christie and The Beatles.

Showing fascinating insight into recent and past events, the project has the full support of the Lanzarote Council, with the president of the island, Pedro San Ginés, attending the launch in London.

During the event, the author spoke about his research experiences, especially thanking historian Agustín Pallarés, who guided him through the first steps of investigation.

PROMOTION: HOLZBAU ELEMENT SL

New dynamics for homes with wood

35 years' experience in wood processing, is well-versed in craftsmanship, always up to date and pays great attention to detail.

Skilled in all aspects of timber building, from roofing to turnkey construction, any wood element can also be combined with stone, glass, steel and colour if desired by the customer. The company

Frank Durach has more than on the island. And now Holzbau Element SL offers its customers an inclusive package from planning to completion, which is tailored to individual wishes and budget.

Wooden elements include extensions for additional living space, interior or garden embellishments, as well as carports and terrace roofs (also available as construction kits). The company also offers dry came about after his family discovered their penchant for Tenerife and in 2018 decided to set up their own business construction, painting and the laying of various floor coverings. In their newly equipped workshop based on Avenida ried out on request.

Coronel Gorrin, number 64, in Tamaimo, Santiago del Teide, wood cutting can also be car-

The aim is to deliver good craftsmanship and to inspire the customer. For more information and to contact Holzbau Element SL, call 642 088 361.

